

Southern California Conference Hosts Conference-wide Virtual Week of Encouragement

2020 has been unlike anything anyone expected. Loved ones have fallen ill, jobs have been lost, and injustices have escalated. It's no secret that we could all use some encouragement. In August, Southern California Conference hosted its first-ever conference-wide digital event: a week of encouragement. Four speakers delivered powerful messages. Members and employees of SCC shared inspiring testimonies. The programs were followed by a virtual Zoom prayer room, where attendees called in for special prayer. "As we joined together in breakout prayer rooms or collectively in our virtual prayer chapel, we sensed that God was near," said Janet Lui, SCC prayer ministry leader. "He was listening, encouraging hearts, and replacing fear with faith. We still serve a miracle-working God. He is only a prayer away."
